

Peer Interview

To create a sense of community within the classroom, we need to get to know one another.
You will be assigned a partner to get to know.

Below are some potential questions to ask your peer, however you do not have to stick to these questions. Be creative!

Questions:

Do you have any nicknames or alter egos?

If you could have any accent what would it be?

Name one minor obsession you have?

If you could live on one food for the rest of your life what would it be?

What is one show you binge watched?

What makes you stressed?

What is your spirit animal?

How would you like to help our world?

"I will always remember...."

Can money buy you happiness?

Think about your past, what advice would you give to younger kids about middle or high school?

What are you excited about regarding your present life?

What does your future look like?

If you were in charge of planning a concert for the school, which three artists would you bring?

If you were a bagel what would you be?

Photograph: Photograph your interviewee in a fun way. Try to get their personality to show through in the image! Use any techniques you've learned in class or any props that you'd like. This is going to serve as a practice to interviewing your teacher next week!
