

Peer Interview Responses

Your Name: Pelle Becker

Interviewee Name: Olivia Cardone

Write a short story (approx 3 paragraphs) based on the responses of your interviewee, try to make this as creatively narrative as possible. Remember the best stories are the ones with details and information that make the reader feel CONNECTED to the story. Do not use “I” in your story, as YOU are not part of the story, you are here as a reporter to narrate. Include the photo you took of the interviewee, the more creative the photo the better-try to capture their true personality.

Olivia Cardone. Definitely one of the norms of teen society. Bubbly and somewhat innocent, liking her chipotle with a side of apple juice. Not much to say there but she does value the experiences with friends and family. As such in the 2020 COVID-19 lockdown. As most people in 2020 they found more respect and got closer to the people that are just a few steps away from their bedroom.

But of course it's not always bad to be more basic or of the herd some would say. To be able to interface and make friends easily some would envy. But what media does Cardone enjoy? Well like most these days streaming services like Netflix. But she also does enjoy a good read like the famous story from the Vampire Diaries. She would even visit the world made by L.J Smith. And of course you can never forget the tunes people listen to (personally I've been a big fan of Eve lately) but this ain't about me. Cardone was asked this, "What song could you play no matter what?" Her response was Post Malone's Hollywood Bleeding. The dark tones of the behind the scenes of the business. And speaking of Hollywood, Cardone would love to visit the second age of the Golden age of Hollywood, the 80s. This is Olivia.
